

ULTIMATE XPLOR GT

The Adventure Begins

In 2013 we launched the XPLOr. An off-road camper trailer that set a new benchmark in quality, performance and style. A camper that received rave reviews from critics and off-road enthusiasts alike. But at Ultimate Campers we don't like to rest on our laurels. Not only do we like to challenge ourselves and the industry, we listen to the people who really know what they are talking about, our loyal customers. The result? The all-new XPLOr GT. The XPLOr GT has everything you have come to expect from Ultimate Campers: a design that stops other off-road adventurers in their tracks, light weight and nimble, aerodynamic, spacious and comfortable, and fuel efficient. What makes the XPLOr GT different is the list of high-end options that come as standard such as the latest Redarc Manager 30, superior entertainment system, quicker setup thanks to a simplified levelling system and a host of tweaks based on the decades of experience of our current owners. Another off-road legend in born.

Design, durability and practicality

Computer aided design, aeronautical construction and numerous prototypes have contributed to the creation of the Ultimate Off-Road Camper. Everything you need to take on your adventure will fit into the lines of the Ultimate, even your dinghy and outboard. The entire body, lounge, galley, lid and components of the Ultimate are hand moulded from high tech materials resulting in an extremely strong and low maintenance composite structure that will endure for decades. The chassis is fabricated from high tensile Duragal steel resulting in excellent strength and performance in all off-road extremes. The Ultimate's aerodynamic profile ensures minimal damage through deflected stones. The tare weight is only 850kg, allowing for greater payloads, optimised fuel economy and safer cruising.

Setting the standard since 1994

Ultimate Campers began when boat builder, Michael Hackett and his wife Wendy built their own unique off-road camper. By using the composite materials and aerodynamic principles of the boat building industry they had created a camper that was truly innovative and very special. Ultimate Campers launched at the Rosehill Caravan and Camping Show in 1995 and they were pleased to see the amazing response the camper generated.

In 1994 the Ultimate changed everything - light weight, composite materials, sleek design. It had a sense of purpose not seen before. Twenty years later the Ultimate still sets the standard on Australia's outback roads and tracks.
